

AFTER SCHOOL KARATE PROGRAM

Do you have your school-aged child in either a day care center or extended care for after school? For parents who work, day care is very important. It allows you to work and pay the bills and provide for your family. For single parents it is even more important. It provides for a safe space for your child from the time they get out of school until you get off work.

The After School Karate Program is the perfect alternative to day care.

As you know, training in Karate builds self confidence and self control. It develops concentration and coordination. And here at Competitive Edge Martial Arts Training Center, we promote positive social, physical and intellectual development for all our students. We have worked in the area of child instruction for the last 30 years. All of the coaches and child supervisors are personally hand-picked by me. I have trained each one so there is no worry about who is working with your child and what he/she may be learning.

The basic rundown of the program is this: We pick up your child at their school when school gets out. We bring them to the Karate school (Competitive Edge Martial Arts Training Center). Their time here will include time for snacks, games, quiet time for homework and, of course, Karate training. In addition to all that, here is the added benefit - your Karate class tuition is included in the cost of the program.

Children routinely make great gains and benefits training on a 2 day a week basis. Think of what it will be on an everyday basis. They will progress faster up the belt ranks than usual. We will vary what occurs in the After School Karate Program so that your child will not suffer "karate burn out."

How to get signed up is this:

1. Reserve your spot by sign up on our website (www.CompetitiveEdge.cc), Make sure your child's name, your child's school name and your contact information is given. (Note: When we get an idea of how many kids will be enrolled, we'll be able to finalize transportation and classes)
2. When accepted into our program, we will go over with you and your child what is expected of him/her, especially in the area of picking them up at school.
3. Pay for their first month of the program.

We made a recent survey of local day care provider prices. They range anywhere from $75 - $125 per week. At $80 per week we are a great deal for what you get. To participate in our 5 day a week program the monthly fee will be $312.00 per child. A discount will be given to families enrolling more than one child.

Our Program runs from 3:30pm (or whatever time your child is released from school) until parent pick-up (no later than 6:00pm). Competitive Edge Martial Arts After School Karate Program operates on the Upper Dublin School District calendar. Our program will be closed on all school holidays and school closings due to inclement weather.

We are very excited about the program. This fills a need for parents and with the Karate training, the returns are far greater than any day care can deliver. This provides a tremendous service for you and your child - we take care of your child until you get off work and your child gains self confidence, self control, greater hand-eye coordination, concentration and knowledge of self defense.

You can't get a better deal than this anywhere!
